MEMORANDUM FOR THE INTELLIGENCE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

SUBJECT : Problems in Watch Procedures During the Recent Period of Tension

REFERENCE : IAC M-270: Minutes of the 4 December Meeting

1. As requested by the Chairman of the IAC on 4 December, the Watch Committee and the National Indications Center have reexamined their procedures during the recent period of tension and have determined that most of the problems noted in this review can be solved through administrative action between NIC and the IAC agencies concerned. Several problems, if unresolved, may warrant future consideration by the IAC. These are:

- a. Assignment of full-time duty officers to NIC;
- b. Possibility of an augmented courier system for off-duty service among intelligence agencies during periods of tension;
- c. Establishment by arrangement with NSA of a uniform system of identification for NSA material;
- d. Development of expeditionary procedures through the intelligence agencies for rechecking critical intelligence items with the field.

2. The Watch Committee proposes that it report to the IAC at the end of three months the progress achieved in dealing with these and any other problems in procedure that may arise.
